Technical Workshop on Women, Land and Housing Rights: Assessing the impacts of dispossession

7–9 August 2019

Esella Country Hotel, Kira, Wakiso, Uganda

Programme

8 August 2019

The third day of technical workshop will involve refining the survey questions for Kigungu-Makusa case intervention after exploring the prior experience of the in-depth application of the Violation Impact-assessment Tool in Kenya. The participants will return to their small groups to incorporate the comments of Day 2 and the lessons from Kenya in their respective parts of the questionnaire simplify. Then the group will conduct a SWOT analysis of the intervention, divide labour for the next steps and discuss the prospects for the future.

Session 1: 08:30–10:00

Learning from Kenya:

Sam Ikua, Mazingira Institute, Kenya

Presentation of the findings and survey tools (questionnaire) from the case of potential evictions in the context of the James Gichuru expansion of A104 road infrastructure.

Questions and answers.

Break: 10:00–10:30

Session 2: 10:30–11:30

Refinement of draft survey questions for the Kingungu-Makusa case.

Participants in small groups 1–5.

1. A: Values and Assets (household)
2. B: Regular Expenditures (household)
3. C: Social Assets (household)
4. D: Civic Assets (non-material)
5. E: Public/State Costs/Expenditures

Session 3: 11:30–12:30

Groups report back to plenary

Session 4: 12:30–13:00

SWOT analysis exercise: Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats

Lunch: 13:00–14:00

Session 5: 14:00–15:30

Next steps and division of labour.

Break: 15:30–16:00

Session 6: 15:30–16:00

Prospects for the future and closing remarks
Technical Workshop on Women, Land and Housing Rights: Assessing the impacts of dispossession
7–9 August 2019
Esella Country Hotel, Kampala

Programme

7 August 2019
The first day of technical workshop will review the learning of workshop 1 on gender equality approach to human rights, particularly, housing and land-related rights and effective remedy in cases of violation. Then the programme will focus on the cases selected from the typology developed in workshop 1 to ensure that they are complete from the perspective of gender and women’s values, as well as comply with the criteria for selecting cases for full impact assessments. The day will end with a deeper focus on the most-appropriate case selected: The Kasoli Project.

Session 1: 08:30–10:00
Welcome and introductions
Introduction to the project and workshop
_Dorothy Baziwe, SSA: UHSNET, and Joseph Schechla, HIC–HLRN_

The introductory session will provide a brief description of the project background, activities and objectives and briefly explain the structure, sessions and objectives of the three days of the workshop.

Introduction of participants.

Review of the Learning: Theoretical Part
_Joseph Schechla_
Commitments v. obligations
The Norms and where to find them
The human right to adequate housing
A gross violation

Break: 10:00–10:30

Session 2: 10:30–12:30
Review of the Learning: Theoretical Part (cont’d.)
Victims
Remedy and Reparation
Uganda Typology
Quick review of the Workshop 1 outcomes

Selected Cases
Checking against the criteria for selecting cases

1. Informal and customary practices
2. Kampala-Jinja Express Highway
3. Kigungi-Makusa Island
4. Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve
5. The Kasoli Project

Lunch: 12:30–13:30

Session 3: 13:30–15:00
Filling in the outlines
Joseph Schechla and all participants
The session involves the author(s)/proponents(s) of the selected cases to summarize the case and engage in discussion to fill in any elements needed. The groups will determine the strategic reasons for selecting the cases and their relative prospects for remedy using quantification methodology and the Violation Impact-assessment Tool.

1. Informal and customary practices
2. Kampala-Jinja Express Highway
3. Kigungi-Makusa Island
4. Pian Upe Wildlife Reserve

Break: 15:00–15:30

Session 4: 15:30–17:00
Developing the Kasoli Project Case Selected for In-depth Impact-assessment
Dorothy Baziwe, SSA-UHSNET
The session will involve the author(s)/proponents(s) of the Kasoli Project selected for the in-depth impact-assessment intervention. The discussion will fill in any information gaps and ultimately focus on the strategic objectives of using the quantification method to provide remedy in this case, as well as the policy implications that may arise.
Technical Workshop on Women, Land and Housing Rights: Assessing the impacts of dispossession

7–9 August 2019
Esella Country Hotel, Kira, Wakiso, Uganda

Programme

8 August 2019
The second day of technical workshop will take up the Kigungu-Makusa case selected for the in-depth application of the Violation Impact-assessment Tool. It will explore the values included in the Tool and translate these into survey questions for the affected community.

Session 1: 08:30–09:30
Clarifications of the Kigungu-Makusa case:
Joseph Schechla and participants
Questions and answers.

Session 2: 09:30–10:00
Review of the Values at Stake
Joseph Schechla
Exploring the general outline of the Violation Impact-assessment Tool for post-evictions to the Kigungu-Makusa case.

Break: 10:00–10:30

Session 3: 10:30–11:30
The Guidance on Quantification Methods for Each Value at Stake
Plenary

Session 4: 11:30–13:00
Small group work to draft questions on the various sections of values at stake:
A: Values and Assets (household)
B: Regular Expenditures (household)
C: Social Assets (household)
D: Civic Assets (non-material)
E: Public/State Costs/Expenditures

Lunch: 13:00–14:00

Session 5: 14:00–15:30
Small group work to draft questions on the various sections of values at stake (cont’d.)

Break: 15:30–16:00

Session 6: 15:30–17:00
Small Group Report Draft Survey Questionnaires to Plenary